

Respiratory Virus Statistics June & July 2018 (KwaZulu-Natal Province)

Respiratory Virus & Atypical Bacterial Multiplex PCR

Influenza A activity: January to July 2018

Findings during July

The most frequently detected viruses during July were rhino/enterovirus (27%) and adenovirus (16%).

Influenza A activity has decreased to 4% of specimens testing positive during July. The majority of the influenza A detected was subtype H1N1.

The atypical bacteria were detected at very low levels during July.